Canada's Biggest Plane Undergoes Test

LONDON, (CP)—The air ministry said Saturday that the 100-mile-an-hour winds which struck the south coast of England Friday, killing at least 10 persons and battering shipping in the English Channel, probably would be followed by another "big size" gale.

At least 22 were reported injured by Friday's hurricane force wind which caused devastation from Land's End to Dover and was adjudged the worst September storm in 57 years. Four of the deaths occurred in shipping accidents.

Three Channel Islanders, bound for London for a belated celebration of the liberation, were washed overboard when the steamer Isle of Jersey was virtually swamped by a 60-foot wave. The vessel limped into Southampton Friday night and debarked 22 others who had been injured by falls and flying furniture.

A member of the crew was drowned when a tug fouled off Folkestone.

Seven deaths ashore including three killed by falling trees, one by electrocution and one by drowning in flood waters caused by torrential rains in parts of Yorkshire and Lancashire. One man was killed when a train was derailed by a washout near London, which was hit by 60 mile-an-hour winds.

C.I.O. Marines Return to Ships

NEW YORK, (AP) C. I. O. Marines filed back today after a strike in New York harbor Saturday after membership meetings here and in other United States ports. The strike ended after the union voted to end its eight-day maritime strike on the basis of an arbitration award establishing an industry-wide principle of wage parity.

Joseph Curran, president of the National Maritime Union, said that the current's costliest sea stoppage was "officially over" but actual end of the strike elsewhere depended on the results of a settlement by all seamen involved.

The N.M.U. said members in New York, Boston, Houston, New Orleans, New Orleans and Providence, N.J., had voted to accept the agreement which also must be accepted by the union's members in other ports. The C.I.O. Marine and Seafarers, and the International Marine Firemen, U.M.W. Wipers and A. Watersiders—west coast union—also voted to accept the agreement.

Five hundred country-wide strike would be ended.

The United States maritime commission Friday night ordered its agents in all ports to pay all rates and charges for the strike.

Wages and benefits were not to be continued until operators gave workers the increases would be paid.

the opinion that the continued action of the government, in refusing to or failing to involve the courts in the matter, is forcing it rigidly against employers, and not constitute good government.

The delegation urged that a move be made to amend the law to require all trade unions to be recognized by the government in the provinces and that the "holding of a permit to exist" be a condition precedent to any union being certified as a bargaining agent, and that the breaking of a collective bargaining agreement by a union or the failure to carry with it the cancellation of their license and the amendment.

For Labor Courts

The submission said further that "the purpose of a good purpose must be served if the administration of justice is to be in the hands of the federal and provincial departments of labor and should, as in the case of Australia, be administered by labor courts with power to enforce their decisions. Such courts would be composed of a chairman selected from the judiciary, plus equal representation from labor and industry, with a federal board to act as a court of appeal.

Provincial boards, similar to the present provincial wage labor boards in Canada, and entirely separate from the general union funds of any non-Canadian affiliates.

Another recommendation in the brief was that "the responsible officials of Canadian labor should be made to take the lead in the Canadian courts and to the Canadian workers for their actions."

The brief also recommended that "Unions should be required to hold their general union funds in Canada, and entirely separate from the general union funds of any non-Canadian affiliates."

Zanetti Magazine Popular in Chile

By Eric Hill

SANTIAGO, Chile. (CP)—Zanetti, South America's humor magazine, which lays low Chilean politicians and makes fun of the world as no other magazine has, has reached a new high in popular appeal.

In the last six months this week, Zanetti has advanced as all public opinion, local and foreign, satirizes him, and his popularity has increased.

Chile is about 50 percent illiterate, but one percent of its population buys a copy of Zanetti weekly—the equivalent of 1,400,000 circulation in the United States.

The life and zest behind Zanetti is George Delano, painter, movie director, caricaturist, editor, radio program director, and, incidentally, just about as good a friend as the U.S. has in Latin America.

Delano, easily one of the most talented men in Latin America, is known on the airwaves, on the screen and in print.

Delano is a 19th cousin of the late Franklin Delano Roosevelt. But the Delano family scattered to widely 300 years ago that George is just a Chilean as Franklin was an American.

Delano has a 27-year-old son, also named George, who spent two years in the United States from 1942 to 1944. He knows New York, Washington, Chicago, New Orleans, New York City, and Miami, and he knows Hollywood better than most U.S. citizens do.

Between the two of them, they are able to sit back in Chile and comment on the world's progress, or lack of it, with more imagination and good humor than most people.

Coldwell Criticizes Land Act Changes

OTTAWA, (CP)—W. J. Coldwell, C.P.P. leader, Friday criticized as "unreasonable and unjust" an order-in-council amending the regulations under the Veterans Land Act.

Mr. Coldwell said the amendment would deprive many veterans of an opportunity to buy a small parcel of land on which to build their homes. The order gave as the reason the desire to "curb and restrain" the tendency to use the small holding provision as a housing measure.

Gordon Murchison, director of the V.L.A., said the purpose of the new order was to draw a "reasonable line of demarcation" between V.L.A. housing and the reconstruction department's urban housing program.

Trouble Not New To Henry Wallace

The trouble-hardest Iowan had hardly settled into the role of President Roosevelt's first-term cabinet member before the country was settling with arguments over his policies as secretary of agriculture.

Fantastic Array of Weapons Ready for Push-Button War

By Stefan Andrews

WASHINGTON, (N.A.S.) — The greatest array of weapons and mechanical monsters ever devised by man is being assembled for a possible push-button war.

The list includes such fearsome wonders as flying tanks, crewless weapons, rocket-guided missiles, supersonic jet planes, beam-eliminating bombs, armor-piercing bullets and pilotless phantom air fleets. All these and more are being prepared for the war of the future. The army lifted the curtain on these astounding projects for the first time in a dramatic presentation at a dazzling instant when it asked congress for its appropriation for the year.

While never made officially public, the closed congressional hearings at which the appropriations were asked now have been sufficiently revealed to show that scientists are working on creations that not only can wipe out an attacking enemy but virtually alter the pattern of civilization.

Intended for Defense
Ranking army officers, however, emphasize that these weapons are being developed not for attack but for defense. War Secretary Patterson still hopes that some form of international control outlawing atomic warfare altogether will be adopted.

Pierced together, tomorrow's war—if it comes—may look out—envisioned as developing something like this:
The initial assault will be launched by long-range rockets and guided missiles. The rockets will carry atomic bombs to drop at set times. Some will be capable of circling oceans at supersonic speeds, to smash themselves directly at targets on other continents.

This will be the signal, the first warning that war is on; but it won't be the knockout blow. Pilotless phantom air-fleets will swoop out of the skies, following the first wave. They will be driven in tight battle formation directed by a few mother planes.

Their object will be to drop atomic bombs and destroy cities. Their crewless weapons will be fired by pilots flying in jet-propelled planes safely out of range of interceptors.

Will Aim At Knockout
Air armadas and seaborne troops will be dropped in the third wave. They will have one objective—to establish a beachhead. The airborne troops will drop stealthily near rocket sites and war factories. Their aim will be to smash, to destroy, to knock the other side out of the war.

Against this horde of swarming mobile artillery, crewless and without visible control, will swing into action. The fire will be of such deadly accuracy it will send enemy armies reeling.

But if that's not enough, there's another, more deadly weapon in store. Thousands of germ-laden bombs and bacteriological poisons can be set loose in an instant. It's a weapon that can be used by attacker and attacked alike—to wipe out what's left of civilization.

Dixie's Homer Gives Dodgers 5-3 Triumph

NEW YORK, Sept. 21. - (CP) - Fred (Dixie) Walker's home run with two on base broke the jinx Johnny Vander Meer had held over Brooklyn and gave the Dodgers a 5-3 victory yesterday over Cincinnati Reds.

The triumph cut St. Louis Cardinals' national league lead over the Dodgers to one game. The leaders were tied as the Dodgers won their eighth game in a recent 18 inning scrapless tie. Each team now has eight games left to play.

Vander Meer, who had hurled 24 scoreless innings against the Dodgers in the last two weeks, gave up four more home runs before they got to him in the fifth inning.

LEADING 7-0 as a result of ex-Dodger Claude "Cowboy" Hinkle's fifth, Vander Meer was touched for singles by pinch-hitter Alvin Dark and before Joe Medich singled in the first Dodger run. That Walker connected for a home run and plated it over the right field fence for his eighth home run of the season.

Art Herring, curve ball veteran, struck out Hugh Casey when the bases were filled with the potential for a run.

IN THE American League's only contest Detroit Tigers staged a late rally to win, defeating Cleveland Indians yesterday, trapping 21 hits, including a home run and four doubles, to win the 15-11 in the opener of a four-game series.

Third baseman Gene Kelleher paced the barrage with six hits in seven trips to the plate, including a double and five singles. The marked tied a league record held by Fred McGriff of the Chicago White Sox, who had hit five home runs in the fifth with two strikes.

Freddie Hutchinson set the Indians down with five blows in the seventh inning he worked. With a 14-1 lead, he retired in the eighth in favor of Ted Gray, recruit from Buffalo.

The Indian used five hurlers in the wild effort to keep the Indians from scoring. The heavy strike work.

Major Loop Baseballers Coming

BIG LEAGUE ALL-STARS WILL PLAY AT RENFREW

American Baseball League all-stars will play two games at Renfrew Park this fall, the dates being Oct. 9 and 10. Arrangements to this effect have been completed with Herb Heister, assistant agent for Earl Rank.

Complete roster will not be available until Monday at the earliest, but the list of 15 players may possibly include some who performed at Renfrew in 1945 or even two years hence. Permission to make the trip to western Canada must be obtained from their respective clubs.

Games also will be played in Winnipeg, Regina and Saskatoon before the team comes to Edmonton and the big leagues are to be in Calgary for Oct. 11 and 12. Vancouver, Seattle and Portland also are included in the itinerary.

Tentative plan is that the all-stars will play against a team chosen from the Edmonton senior league, but this may be varied to some extent.

The opportunity to once more view major league baseballers no doubt will be welcomed by Edmonton ball fans who in other years have watched players such as Lefty Grove, Charlie Gehringer, Joe Judge, Hank Greenberg, Red Evers, Babe Waberg and Bill Dickey.

Games here will be played at 2:30 p.m.

Last War Evacuee Home from Canada

LIVERPOOL, England. (CP)—After a rough passage from Montreal, the steamer Canada docked here Friday with a heavy cargo of Canadian food—critically there and evacuated mail.

Among her 146 passengers was 16-year-old Betty Currie, believed to be the last British evacuee to return home from Canada. She is going to the Halloway district of London where she will be met by her father. The girl, whose mother is still in Canada, was with her aunt in Winnipeg seven years ago.

Briton Accquired Of Assisting Japs

LONDON. (Reuters)—Mal Cecil Boon Friday was acquitted of charges of assisting the Japanese while he was liaison officer at a Hong Kong prisoner-of-war camp.

The major, a member of the Army Service Corps, had been under close arrest for 13 months before his 22-day trial. "It is a very great relief," he commented as he left the court room.

The Daily Express reported Mal Boon had spent his life savings—nearly $10,000—to prove his innocence.

His court officers deliberated 15 minutes before reaching their verdict.

"I never wanted to be liaison officer at Samboing camp, but when I was forced into the job, I tried to do my duty toward my fellow men," he said.

Mal Boon had testified all orders issued by him to his fellow prisoners on Hong Island were given under threat of torture or death. He said he was beaten when he refused to issue orders when a man was late on parade.

He also testified that he served at the Halloway district of the Royal British of Canada, a Quebec unit, and the Halloway district.

After the trial, the Japanese colony left Dec. 25, 1941. The Japanese reported they took 1,800 prisoners. More than 100 men died in captivity.

Tamavskia has abolished its 80 per cent wartime excess profits tax.

HEIDELBERG, (NANA)—De-Nazification of the German press has reached the stage where not only editors but authors and contributors must have an approved military government record before articles or letters from them are considered for publication.

A five-lance contributor, who had a remote association with an obscure branch of the Nazi party, which he joined for reportorial activities—showed me a form he had been required to fill. There were five questions and the answer "yes" to any one of them required a further full and supplementary report.

The questions are really to those who fear that the Nazis in Germany do not go deep and far enough.

"Have you ever intended for National Socialism in speeches or writings or have you in any way supported Nazi militaristic or social philosophy?"

"Have you ever given in to Nazi pressure to write propaganda, or profited financially by Nazi propaganda or obtained special favors from party members, or allowed the party to use your name to enhance its influence and prestige?"

Secret Service Connections

The possibility of writers having been employed by the former German secret service staff has not been overlooked in the questions. One

"Have you ever been invited by the German secret service staff to perform in the German press?"

Say Barley Price Penalizes' West

WINNIPEG, (CP)—Continuation of a government policy penalizing the western farmer for the benefit of eastern farmers will result in the price farmer discommodating production more than sufficient barley for his own needs, a telegram from Cecil Lamont, president of the Northwest Line Elevators association, to Prime Minister King stated Friday.

"The farmer is being penalized 40 per cent a bushel on feed barley and 77 per cent on malting barley as a result of the order of the feeds administration," the telegram said.

Western barley growers are being denied access to the American markets in order to make the price of the feeds administration.

As long as the policy of forcing the western farmers to grow cheap feed for the eastern farmers, the eastern farmer will not agree to produce his own feed to the fullest extent.

"If the eastern farmer would barley he should be prepared to pay competitive prices for it."

The time has arrived when the government should consult more with experienced marketing authorities rather than to continue the practice of adopting trade policies relating to grain put forward by theorists.

Major and Minor Notes

By John Oliver

In the last decade youth has been recognized and appreciated more than ever before. In every direction and in all lines of activity emphasis has been placed on youth. There was a time when it was felt that time was required to develop the theoretical qualities of a profession and that maturity and experience were essential for the best in work and play. But today there is a different summation of the situation. In our quarters it is considered that hockey, basketball, tennis, and golf players have crossed the competitive Rubicon at 32 years. Violinists and pianists of 20 years are performing concertos which 50 years ago leading instrumentalists pronounced unplayable and there is an inclination to sentence a man of woman to oblivion on reaching 40.

All these contentions are not borne out in fact. There are first string athletes in all games over the "age limit." The 20-year-old instrumentalists are not always the best and for many persons life is just beginning at 40.

However, over the world youth is having its fling. Edmonton was described in a recent article in a son's concert will be in the evening instead of the afternoon as was the case last year. 800 dates were given in this column last Saturday.

Dates and programs of the regular meetings of the Women's Musical Club for the current season, to be completed and as announced by Mrs. B. McEachern, convener of the program committee, are as follows: Monday, Oct. 21, opening recital by Mrs. B. McEachern; piano, Saturday, Nov. 2, Monday, Nov. 16, Music and Drama, Dec. 2, Christmas program by chorus of University High School conducted by Mrs. D. H. Stuppard; guest recital in recital to be arranged; Feb. 1, Students recital; Feb. 15, Vera, Sherrin; March 1, Moods in Music and March 15, annual meeting and election of officers.

MRS. D. S. McEACHERN

blouses worn by many choirs. Her girls will appear in all their pristine or resplendent beauty and will spread gladness as well as music over the concert hall. This should prove an attractive feature.

It is hoped to discover young, fresh voices. Any solo assignments will be allotted to new singers, not those already established as incapable, but with a view to providing opportunities for new artists to appear before the public.

As to Mrs. McEachern herself it may be of interest to review some of her musical activities since she came here. She was born in Chester, England, that fine old city of beauty, romance and hospitality through which the historic river Dee winds its way. She studied piano, theory and voice. Coming here in 1922 she immediately became immersed in music. She continued her vocal studies under Mrs. J. B. Carmichael.

For five years she was conductor of the junior choir at Metropolitan United Church and for three years of the senior choir at St. Peter's Anglican Church and at present directs the junior and senior choirs at St. Peter's Baptist church. Also she has led the Northwest United Church, Ten-Age girls' chorus. Last season she trained the choirs of the City Opera Society for its production of "The Barber of Seville."

She is constant of the difficulties attendant upon establishing another choir here. But her "good" choir and "may be" choir of "Charm" will see the light.

Next week will be "Music Week" in the Hudson Bay Company store when there will be special window displays in support of the Edmonton Philharmonic Orchestra. Pictures of the orchestra, groups of instrumentalists and other features calculated to stimulate interest in particular will be on view.

The orchestra has appointed Dr. N. Onischuk as personnel manager and prospective players should contact him at 520 Tenth Avenue. It has been decided that this season's concert will be in the evening instead of the afternoon as was the case last year. 800 dates were given in this column last Saturday.

Canada's leading swing band, Bert Niosi and his musicians will play the R.C.A.P. at the Northwest Arts Center Saturday, Sept. 28. Their appearance here is being sponsored by the Kinsmen Club.

With the band will be Pat Berry, vocalist, and the "little band," a sextet of musicians within the larger group who offer a change of pace to the program. Besides being a vocal, members of the band are skilled soloists and will be heard to entertain the dancers.

Born in London, Ont., Niosi was a child prodigy. He was with the Lombardo and called "The King of the 20 and Me" with his reputation as a band leader.

He has amazed musicians and critics alike with his versatile playing, clever histrionics in all with the band plays saxophone, trumpet, trombone, piano and flute. He is an excellent pianist and accompanist and a versatile and versatile.

Plan New Attempt Air Speed Record

LONDON, CP—A new British bid for a world air speed record may be made next week when the R.A.F. high-speed flight officer, Group Capt. E.M. Donaldson still is expected to attempt with a new tailless DH-108.

The air ministry has given the necessary permission to use the Tangmere, Sussex, course where R.A.F. high-speed flight officer, Group Capt. E.M. Donaldson still is expected to attempt with a new tailless DH-108.

Donaldson's flight is expected to be the first of a series of flights to be made by the DH-108, a new tailless aircraft designed by the R.A.F. ministry.

Germany Will Be 'New World' When Reconstruction Is Done

HAMBURG, (NANA).—Because it has the doubtful honor of being the first German city on which saturation bombing has been done, this city's days of catastrophe were the nine between July 24 and Aug. 1, 1942.

It was therefore more ready than the other demolished cities of Germany to begin new life directly the war was over. It early got the reputation of being the most "reconstruction-conscious" city in Germany. Hamburg thus shines brightly on the larger problem of the reconstruction of all Germany.

A visit to Hamburg is consequently not as depressing and abject as experience in the other cities of the Ruhr. But, in a sense, this very fact is in itself depressing. More than a year of work has hardly made a dent in the wreckage. The life of the city seems to move more miserably and smoothly, but it is still in a terrible rain of rubble.

Slagging Task
Some idea of the situation may be gained from an engineering estimate that it would take 1,000 trucks about 50 years merely to clear away the rubble and debris in Cologne alone. The contention of Hamburg here is that it would cost twice as much to clear away the rubble and rebuild these cities as it would to go elsewhere and build them anew from the ground up.

Unfortunately there are some things of this idea in the plans for redevelopment of Germany's cities that finally evolve. But obviously that cannot be carried very far. These cities are where they are because of geography and economic factors combined to put them there. They will have to be, for the most part, on the old sites.

No one will venture to say how long that rebuilding will take, but whatever the period, it is not clear that Germany with the most modern cities on earth, America no longer will be the new world. There will be precious little of the old left in the old world—in the physical sense, anyway.

Hamburg is synonymous with shipping and shipbuilding, but there is precious little of that now. One of the largest ports of the continent, the great harbor is now handling little more than military and control commission cargoes. In addition, the small container ships and the fishing fleet, which are the only shipping allowed the Germans, use this harbor or Cuxhaven.

Sunken Ships Halted
But there has been a tremendous amount of raising of sunken vessels and clearing of other obstructions. Some 20 deep-water berths and 30 others for smaller vessels have been cleared, against the 85 or 100 available before the war. There are five cranes or uncranes where houses left, and the port can be said to be not much more than 40 percent operable.

The chief signs of interest in the harbor are not the shipping, which is small, but horrible mangled remains of the submarine pens and shipways; the wreck of the Robert Ley, which was one of Hitler's strength-through-Joy holiday steamers; the fleet of unlabelled German steamers awaiting disposal as reparations; and the masses of crates and crates containing parts of dismantled factories being shipped as reparations to Russia.

The University of Hamburg has fared better than that at Cologne, and is in better position both as concerns buildings and faculty personnel. The student body of 3,768 is more than twice the pre-war enrollment.

Coroner Discovers His Auto Stolen Plan Investigate North Facilities

WINNIPEG, (CP)—Criminals in Winnipeg don't care who their victims may be.

Provincial Coroner Dr. I. O. Fryer was called to the scene of the George Smith slaying. He ruled out of his apartment at 7:30 a.m. without changing or breakfasting. He ran to the garage where his 45-day-old automobile was housed.

An empty space greeted him. His car had been stolen.

Denies Any Link U.F.C. with C.C.F.

REGINA, (CP)—J. H. Brockelbank, Saskatchewan minister of municipal affairs, Friday denied there is any political link between the C.C.F. party and the United Farmers of Canada, a Saskatchewan organization which has issued a strike call to its estimated 30,000 members.

He was answering a charge by Edmund Lehman, a farmer at Broadview, Sask., who alleged that the U.F.C. was a political organization and one of the mainstays of the C.C.F. government.

Mr. Brockelbank also denied that a section of the Rural Municipality act was enacted to reward the U.F.C. for services rendered to the C.C.F. as charged by Mr. Lehman.

The municipality legislation referred to provides for payment of all farmers in a municipality into the U.F.C. upon payment of a lump sum by the municipality. It was put on the statute books at a special legislative session of the C.C.F. in 1944.

Mr. Brockelbank said the U.F.C. has no more affiliations with the C.C.F. He said requests for the legislation had been made before the C.C.F. came to office but that they had been rejected.

FEAR CARGO TOTAL LOSS
RIO DE JANEIRO, (AP)—The United States cargo ship Great Falls Victor caught fire while docking Thursday and was still burning 21 hours later. Almost the entire cargo of 5,500 tons was believed lost.

Plan Investigate North Facilities

VICTORIA, (CP)—An on-the-spot investigation of requirements for public travel on the Alaska highway will follow the present preliminary discussions of the matter between federal and provincial authorities in Victoria. Public Works Minister Carson said Friday.

Mr. Carson said Friday's consultations between a special sub-committee of the British Columbia cabinet and two federal representatives will conclude the discussion for the time being. But he said it will be necessary for a delegation to travel to Edmonton to see what facilities are needed for public travel on the road.

Federal representatives at the conference here are L.H. Finney, special commissioner in charge of defence projects for northwest Canada, and Brig. Geoffrey Walsh, military commissioner for the northwest highway system.

Military restrictions on the Yukon section of the 1,000-mile highway already have been lifted, but those on the British Columbia section have been continued pending a decision on what is to be done about accommodation for civilian travelers.

Mr. Finney said removal of the restrictions is dependent on the provision of adequate facilities for public use.

Acting on the sub-committee of the British Columbia cabinet are Mr. Carson, Deputy Minister of Finance and Mr. Carson, Deputy Minister of Finance.

Eleven Norwegians Will Be Executed

OSLO, Norway, (AP)—Eleven Norwegians were sentenced to death and 19 others given prison terms at Trondheim Friday. Charges of quelling activity during the German occupation. It was the country's biggest mass trial of collaborators.

'Foster Mother' Is Coming Here

VANCOUVER, (CP)—Beloved English "foster mother" of thousands of R.C.A.F. officers on leave in London during the war, Canadian-born Mrs. Helen M. Mac Henry, arrived Friday on a trans-Canada tour.

A group of Vancouver ex-R.C.A.F. officers who enjoyed her wartime hospitality will honor her at a reception Saturday. She will leave Monday night for Jasper and Edmonton.

Her visit to Vancouver is a preliminary; but even so, she had to be turned away for each one admitted.

The students here, as in other German universities, constitute the main hope for leadership in the new democratic Germany which is the objective of both American and British policy.

Students Resilient
The state of mind of the students can be described only as one of calm, equanimity and painful realization, combined with an intense eagerness and zeal to fill in the gaps of knowledge caused by more than five years of war and civil unrest of darkness, which Naziism threw over history lessons. They struggle against the lack of maintenance, street-cleaning, housing, food, leisure, and the lack of books, laboratory equipment and educational supplies of all kinds.

But in one respect, perhaps the most crucial of all, Hamburg is no different from the rest of the cities of the Ruhr. Hunger is the same in one city as another. There can be no new Germany, having it, in part in decent world society, while its people are slowly starving to death.

The death of children of 10 to 14 years, seen, even seen, in the streets, because of their rapidly serious condition is a reminder that all this did not have its beginning as a year or so ago. These children are weak, puny, sickly and often covered with sores.

Fatally Stabbed In Montreal Fight

MONTREAL, (CP)—Lester Veale, 35-year-old boxer from North Merrick, Long Island, was fatally stabbed Friday in a bloody fight that raged throughout two stories of a luxurious rooming house for boys.

William Acorn, 22, of Providence, R.I., comedian appearing at a Montreal night club, was taken to hospital with what police say were superficial wounds. He was placed under police guard as a material witness.

Police said Acorn stabbed himself in the throat with a dagger. The chief signs of interest in the harbor are not the shipping, which is small, but horrible mangled remains of the submarine pens and shipways; the wreck of the Robert Ley, which was one of Hitler's strength-through-Joy holiday steamers; the fleet of unlabelled German steamers awaiting disposal as reparations; and the masses of crates and crates containing parts of dismantled factories being shipped as reparations to Russia.

Edmonton Real Estate Agent Wins National Appointment

Well-known Edmonton real estate agent, Stuart Darroch, has been awarded his appointment as regional vice-president of the Canadian Association of Real Estate Agents. The appointment was made during a three-day convention of the association held in Ottawa, Sep. 16, 17 and 18.

MR. DARROCH succeeds Andrew Whyte, also of Edmonton, who held the appointment for the past three years.

Past president of the Edmonton Real Estate Association, Mr. Darroch has been active in the real estate business in this city for the past 40 years. He sold his first house in Edmonton in June, 1906. At the present time his activities are principally concerned with real estate evaluations and reports.

MR. DARROCH said Saturday that Edmonton real estate men have taken a keen interest in the Canadian association since its inception three years ago, and this city has been represented at every convention to date. For its population, this city has the largest local real estate association in the Dominion.

Urges Preparation For New Tourists
With prospects never better for a vast increase in the tourist trade of Canada and much of it designated for Alberta, now is the time to prepare in every way possible for Canadian hospitality and accommodation so that visitors would return in greater numbers in succeeding holiday excursions. It was pointed out to members of the Canadian Restaurant Association in an address at their convention Thursday night by Hon. A. J. Hooke, provincial secretary and minister of economic affairs.

To catering industries Mr. Hooke advised close watch and special emphasis on courtesy of staffs and efficiency of service, which included spotless cleanliness of premises. He told the delegates to the one-day convention in the Macdonald hotel that Alberta's tourist business had increased 302 per cent over that of 1935, and that last year approximately 375,000 persons visited Banff, Jasper and Waterton Lakes.

Mexico Sportmen Heading For North

Inflation has really hit Mexico where prices of almost everything are much higher than in either the U.S.A. or Canada. Free spending American tourists who have been coming here by plane since the war ended are largely responsible for the price inflation.

THIS WAS THE view expressed Friday by J. E. Estrada, Mexican City attorney and business executive, who heads a party of five Mexican big game hunters who arrived here by plane prior to a hunting expedition in Porcupine Lake and Waterton National Park and Banff National Park.

"Mexico is generally prosperous with too much money in fact," Mr. Estrada said.

"Northwest Canada has the most wonderful hunting on the North American continent and with flying becoming so popular more and more Mexican sportsmen will come to this country," Mr. Estrada predicted.

OTHER MEMBERS of the party are: Ramon Llano, one of the leading Ford car dealers in Mexico City, where the company has an assembly plant, and his son, Marcel Llano, a graduate of Culver University and qualified airplane mechanic. Also, V. A. R. Sada, a lawyer, and D. G. Sada, Montebello.

The party plans to fly in C.P. Air Lines chartered planes to the hunting area and expects to be gone about three weeks.

Will Fly to Canol To See Machinery

With Alberta's road program extending beyond the capacity of existing equipment to adequately handle it, Hon. W. A. Fallick, minister of public works, Monday will fly to the Canol project area between Whitecourt and Norman Wells to inspect roadbuilding and maintenance machines and equipment left idle when the project was abandoned two years ago.

The minister said there was about $100,000 worth of equipment which was now offered for sale by the American government, but that the biggest problem would be in getting it out of the area, 1,500 miles from Edmonton. Accompanying Mr. Fallick will be O. B. Lassiter, with whom the department of lands and mines recently completed a contract for the clearing and breaking of 100,000 acres of land in the Spirit River district for the settlement of veterans in the spring.

Don't Hesitate; Ask Her Hand in Marriage Now: Delay and You'll Pay More for that Diamond Ring

Don't postpone that proposal. Pop the question now. If you don't, that diamond engagement ring may cost you a small fortune.

With production of rough diamonds way behind demand for the fifth consecutive year, and the demand for rings five times greater than in 1939, it's costing more and more to become engaged.

Before the war in Edmonton, the average diamond ring sold for about $100. Today that same ring would cost between $125 and $140, a leading city jeweler says, and that doesn't include the 25 percent luxury tax.

In the States, courting couples face even greater financial hazards. A one-third carat diamond ring which sold for about $110 before the war, now prices at $180, plus a luxury tax of 20 percent.

In fact so grave is the situation in Seattle, Los Angeles and other not too distant American cities, that many Americans affiliated to Edmonton also prefer to purchase their rings here. The rings are less expensive and the quality and size of stone considerably superior.

Diamond prices abroad have gone up and are reported higher in Egypt and India than in the United States.

Part of the world demand for these precious gems was due to heavy purchases of diamonds by people in foreign countries as a hedge against inflation. The stones were easy to carry and usually easily negotiable.

Where some of the world's most famous diamonds disappeared during the war may always remain a mystery. But it is known that the value of diamonds held by people who fled Europe totals around $40,000,000.

But regardless of whether the engagement ring is moderate in price or equal in value to the Hope diamond, there is one thing the bride-elect must always remember. The ring is hers only as long as she is betrothed to the man who gave it to her.

Should the engagement be broken... regardless of who broke it... the girl is compelled to return the ring. She should be glad to get rid of the ring, a symbol of her unhappy experience. She should never keep it, either to wear or to sell or pawn. If she does she will soon be known among her acquaintances as a "ring-collector", a term just one step removed from gold-digger. And furthermore, to the superstitious say, her next romance will be dogged by bad luck.

After all, if the groom-elect doesn't grouse at buying a diamond at today's higher price, the least the girl can do is return it promptly should the engagement be broken.

The great clock on the tower of the Parliament Building in London, which is the symbol of the British Empire, is not really named Big Ben at all. The correct name is 'St. Stephen's'. This Ben is merely a nickname, and it applies to the bells within the clock rather than to the clock itself.

SIDE GLANCES

by Galbraith

"If I don't go on a meat strike against these prices, it's going to hurt you a lot more than it does me!"

Your Baby And Mine

BY MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Few acts so anger the parent as for her child to destroy some prized possession. It seems to her the act was deliberate and the child was intent on depriving her of something she valued.

It is quite possible that the parent's repeated commands to a child to stay away from some object, plus her own special handling of the child, cause the child to desire to discover the nature of its charms. Though an accident might happen it would be due to the child's desire to investigate, not to destroy.

Such destruction is the result of boredom, or fatigue. The child is perpetually learning how to get learning is difficult and wearisome. When fatigue is greater than the child's desire to learn, then he resorts to destruction as a relief.

Give a child a set of blocks and he will build them up into careful structures. Then for no reason he will pull the pile over with a bang. He wants no more of building.

If he plays with a toy teaset he will go around turning the cups to his lips daintily and passing play-foam on plates to his cooperative family. Then suddenly, he is weary and he throws the dishes as far as he can hit them, giving up to the accusation that he can't take care of anything and shouldn't be trusted.

Destruction, it is true, may be a symptom of the child's feeling of aversion toward a parent, who is strict and punitive and whom he may be indicative of boredom only. Every day the child goes through the same routine. When then he is bored with it all he begins to destroy the things of his neighbor, children, or bangs his knee against the wall or pulls the points of his tent. He finds destruction exciting and usually a quick end to his boredom, for his mother always takes notice and changes his environment easily, if angrily.

Destruction is easier than construction and so appeals to the child whose play is beyond his capacities or is too restrained and formal. The swift way to bring relief is to tear up something, or break it down or throw it.

These destructions are not as deliberate, punishable offenses but as a symptom of the child's need for play that is less demanding or for a general change of outlook.

Our latest No. 56 "Destructive Tendencies" may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with this request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of The Edmonton Bulletin.

Minute Make-Ups

Answer: I think you and your friend seem to be very busy taking the advice that George Washington gave to the nation—friendship with all, engaging alliances with none—and in this you show good, hard common sense. He realizes that if he is going to continue his education and fit himself for any profession, it will take years of study to do it before he can be in a position to get married and support a family. So when he says he wants to marry it is a vague prospect for you.

Dear Miss Dix: Faced with the problem of the philanthropist husband, as so many women are, I didn't go off the deep end and rush to divorce court. I sat down and thought the matter over and loved my husband. I had a nice home and beautiful children. Didn't get him into any more of my keeping. So I held my temper, didn't let him know that I knew of his infidelity, got myself a new hair-do, got a lot of pretty clothes, and began acting gay and amusing.

A SUCCESSFUL WIFE. Answer: Good for you. Sportsmanship and common sense would bring many a philanthropist husband back. If wives would only use them. For, after all, a middle-aged man's feet begin to hurt him and when night comes he wants to rest them instead of treading the primrose path with a culte young couple.

Dear Dorothy Dix: Do you think a man of 50 can marry a woman eleven years older than himself? He just got out of the army and never bothered with girls before he went away. She is a divorced woman and they have only known each other a short time.

ANSWER: I think your son is a bit to be deceived by a lady and a little older than you can save him to be separate him from her as soon as possible. Take him to a place where he will meet other girls in his own age class and forget all about her in a few days.

Dorothy Dix Says

Dear Miss Dix: A sailor whom I like very much, but to whom I am not engaged, has been discharged from the service and is going to attend school. I approve of very much. He tells me he loves me and wants me to be his wife some day. I feel the same way about him, as he has all the characteristics I would desire in a husband, but I am not ready to settle down yet as I am only 20 years old.

NOW HERE is my problem. Many of the men I have gone with before meeting my sailor and to whom I have written friendly letters during the war, are being discharged and have asked me for dates. As yet I haven't gone out with any of them, yet I feel to refuse their invitations because I know they are lonely and want girl friends. But, on the other hand, if I go with them, I am afraid of losing my boy friend.

What should I do?

PERPLEXED. Answer: I think you and your friend seem to be very busy taking the advice that George Washington gave to the nation—friendship with all, engaging alliances with none—and in this you show good, hard common sense. He realizes that if he is going to continue his education and fit himself for any profession, it will take years of study to do it before he can be in a position to get married and support a family. So when he says he wants to marry it is a vague prospect for you.

Dear Miss Dix: Faced with the problem of the philanthropist husband, as so many women are, I didn't go off the deep end and rush to divorce court. I sat down and thought the matter over and loved my husband. I had a nice home and beautiful children. Didn't get him into any more of my keeping. So I held my temper, didn't let him know that I knew of his infidelity, got myself a new hair-do, got a lot of pretty clothes, and began acting gay and amusing.

A SUCCESSFUL WIFE. Answer: Good for you. Sportsmanship and common sense would bring many a philanthropist husband back. If wives would only use them. For, after all, a middle-aged man's feet begin to hurt him and when night comes he wants to rest them instead of treading the primrose path with a culte young couple.

Dear Dorothy Dix: Do you think a man of 50 can marry a woman eleven years older than himself? He just got out of the army and never bothered with girls before he went away. She is a divorced woman and they have only known each other a short time.

ANSWER: I think your son is a bit to be deceived by a lady and a little older than you can save him to be separate him from her as soon as possible. Take him to a place where he will meet other girls in his own age class and forget all about her in a few days.

Compulsory Training Gains Support Since End of War

By Canadian Institute of Public Opinion
TORONTO.—Although Canada, in contrast to United States, has adopted the voluntary system for maintaining her standing army, a majority of adult voters in this country still think it would be a good idea to compel all able-bodied young men to take a year's military training.

Indicative of the effect which the current fevered peace efforts have had on the public's point of view is the fact that, instead of diminishing since the defeat of Germany and Japan, sentiment in favor of compulsory military service has actually risen steadily since the war days.

Latest Gallup Poll. In which all types of voters were represented in their true proportion, was based on the question:

"After the war is over, do you think every able-bodied young man should be required to serve one year in the army, navy or air force?"

The wording is sufficiently similar to permit comparison—in a comparison which shows a steady increase in approval.

March 1943 1944 TODAY
 Approve..... 56% 55% 55%
 Disapprove..... 44% 45% 45%
 No opinion..... 2% 2% 2%
 As in 1943 and 1944, Quebec voters, who have consistently voted against compulsory military service overseas, show a majority in favor of a national military training plan. However, a strong minority

Internees to Get Australian Homes Dutch and Swiss For B.C. Farms

VANCOUVER.—Next year, some 1,000 internees from the best types of Dutch, central British Columbia, mainly around Prince George, Vancouver and Smithers, J.B. McGowan of National directors of colonization and settlement for Canadian National Railways, said Friday.

He is in Vancouver with his assistant, T.P. Devlin of Winnipeg. They have just returned from a tour of the area.

Mr. McGowan said that "about 30 or 40 Dutch and Swiss families were allowed to settle there before the war."

"They are doing very well," he reported. They are good farmers, good Canadian citizens. They are thoroughly assimilated, and we hope we can get some more like them."

Mr. McGowan said the number of such settlers who have arrived in British Columbia in 1941 probably would not exceed 50.

As to the Canadian immigration picture in general, the C.N.R. colonization office said thousands of people in the British Isles, Belgium and other countries have applied for permission to settle in Canada.

"Shortage of shipping space is a major problem, and the cost of transport is not all clear at present," said Mr. McGowan.

Declines Accept Boost in Salary

WINNIPEG.—Mayor Coudry refuses to put over-emphasis on money.

In May, aldermen boosted their own annual stipend to $1,800 from $1,500 and Mayor Coudry's salary was raised from $5,000 to $5,500. The raise became effective June 1.

But as a result of a written request by the mayor to Finance Commissioner W. B. Brown, Mr. Coudry is being paid the same amount he received previous to the salary boost.

His explanation: he did not feel justified in accepting the increase in the middle of an elected term.

Admits Stealing Letter with Cash

VANCOUVER.—CPV. Bennett, 32-year-old truck driver, pleaded guilty in police court Friday to the charge of stealing a letter containing $2,000. He was remanded to Tuesday for sentence.

Bennett, a former army sergeant and father of five, was arrested in connection with the disappearance of $2,000 from a mail bag being sent from Vancouver to Victoria with $12,000 in cash.

Police said all but $120 of the missing $2,000 was recovered.

Bennett has been driving a truck for a traffic company which has a mail-carriage contract.

"Press" cards of motorists have become too common in Mexico City, police say, and unqualified drivers will be fined.

MOVING DAY

SKIPPY had a cold. He had been sniffing for several weeks and he had worn nearly all the hair off his forepaws wiping his wet nose. The chipmunk asked the Teenie Weenie Doctor for some cold medicine, but the Doctor told him that medicine would not do him a bit of good as long as he lived in a damp house.

"That old stump under which you have your hole is rotten and it soaks up the rain and keeps the place damp," the Doctor said. "If you want to get over your cold you'll have to move into a dry home."

"But I don't want to move," wailed Skippy. "It's the best home I ever had. Especially since you Teenie Weenies built a door to the entrance. Now I can sleep without any fear of weasels getting at me."

"Shucks!" exclaimed the Turk. "Don't worry about that. We'll build a stout door to the entrance of any place you choose."

"But I have a lot of hazel nuts, some cherry seeds and a pile of assorted seeds stored up for the Winter. It would be an awful task to move a whole storehouse

"We'll move your seeds, too," said the Turk. "We will hitch you up to our cart and move them in three or four trips."

The chipmunk finally gave in and agreed to move. He spent several days hunting a new home and finally he found a place that suited him. He dug a tunnel down into the ground in remarkably fast time, and he probably could have done it faster if he hadn't had to wipe his nose so often.

The Teenie Weenies built a strong door at the entrance of the hole and when that was finished they hitched Skippy to the Teenie Weenie cart and began moving his store of food. The men carried 67 hazel nuts, 83 cherry seeds and seven pecan-shell baskets of mixed seeds out of the hole and loaded them into the cart. They also found four dried grasshoppers and half a beetle in the hole, but they left those behind. It took four trips to move the nuts to Skippy's new home. The Teenie Weenies carried the nuts down the hole and the Chipmunk stacked them neatly in several storerooms he had made off the main tunnel.

The new home was nice and dry and in a few days the chipmunk quit sniffing. His health improved rapidly and the hair began to grow on his paws again. Skippy was very grateful for the Teenie Weenies' help and he made them a present of 12 choice hazel nuts.

"Common sense," the Teenie Weenie Doctor remarked to the General, "is often the best medicine."
